Progress summary

The business case for Narrabeen Education Campus has been approved by the NSW Government and the project now has funding to proceed. Key consultants including architects and engineers have been appointed.

Next steps

We will now continue to develop the design in consultation with key stakeholders, including a Project Reference Group (PRG). This will include architects, planners and design professionals, and representatives from local school communities. The design of the school will be developed in consultation with the PRG, considering educational, operational and service delivery requirements. Designs including site layouts and artist impressions will be shared with the community in the coming months.
