

Berowra Public School

Works notification | 11 September 2025

Dear staff, parents and carers,

Due to a burst water main, managed by Sydney Water, at the intersection of Church Street and the Pacific Highway in Mount Kuring-gai, students of Berowra Public School were asked to stay home this morning.

There is bottled water and minimal supervision available at the school for students from families who were unable to make arrangements. Water has been reconnected to the school as of this morning, enabling handwashing and toilets to be flushed.

Sydney Water crews are on their way to investigate the issue with the water main.

We will keep the community updated.

For live water service updates, please visit the Sydney Water website:

The health, safety and wellbeing of all members of our school and the local community are our highest priorities.

Thank you for your understanding. We know there may be disappointment about the postponed Book Week parade, and will reschedule this as soon as we can.
