

Glenquarry Public School

Works notification | 30 May 2023

Dear staff and parents/carers,

Further to our notification on 24 March regarding water quality testing results at Glenquarry Public School, we have been working with the independent occupational hygienist on remediation actions.

We have cleaned the tank, replaced the UV filter system, and flushed the water lines and pipes.

The independent occupational hygienist has done further water quality testing to confirm the water is safe for use. They will provide a clearance certificate or further recommendations following the results of this next round of testing.

Until then, precautionary safety measures such as restricting access to affected outlets and the installation of signage warning users not to drink the water will remain in place. Bottled water is also being supplied as an alternative for staff and students as needed.

The health, safety and wellbeing of the school and the local community is our highest priority. Department staff will continue working closely with the school and NSW Health to keep you updated on this matter.

If you have any questions about the testing program, please contact School Infrastructure NSW on 1300 482 651 or email schoolinfrastructure@det.nsw.edu.au
