A message from your principal

I'm thrilled to unveil our upgraded cooking spaces which will support the earlier stages of curriculum delivery, student engagement and serve as a light hospitality space.

Our new and improved hospitality area will provide a greater focus on commercial kitchen practices and offer additional Vocational Education and Training (VET) hospitality courses. Our food technology space will facilitate early stage introduction kitchen practices.

These upgrades have been done with the view of providing our incredible students with pathways to diverse careers in the hospitality and food service industries. Not only have we future-proofed the site for teaching and learning to come but we've done it in a way that will reduce carbon dioxide and methane emissions from the kitchen.

I'm excited to imagine that we could have the next Master Chef in our midst. I'm also looking forward to seeing, or tasting, what our students cook up in these new and improved spaces.
